

A Day In Lap Of Nature

At the first light of dawn
When the mighty moon lost its crown
I stood there on emerald ground
Saw the lush green trees all around

The flowing wind gave its kiss
Refreshed me up, filling me with utmost bliss
Walked around, felt the cool dew
Everything was born fresh and new

This happy moment, blessed with applaud
Birds chirping was melodious and aloud
The orange sky welcomed the new night
Crawling sun blessed place with heavenly light

Like a gifted teacher, it showed me mirror
Its melodious and calm mighty river
I washed my dark past with its heavenly water
I was all set to begin a new chapter

Motherly nature asked me to move ahead
The blessed foundation for my success was laid
I then returned back to the noisy city
Started my work with full integrity

The afternoon taught me meaning of sweat
The more you sweat the more you get
The evening called me for a rest
The mighty moon was rising to its best

The melodious wind filled all my scar
There I slept, with blanket of star
So a step forward to success was taken
The earth seemed now heaven

Tantreshwar Jha